THE MEAT MAN

C. W. INGLEDUE HAS BUILT UP
BUSINESS BY BUSINESS
METHODS

When you are enjoying a succulent chop or steak, or your crisp bacon in the morning, never a thought do you give to the meat man, to the purveyor who makes it possible for you to enjoy the meats and cuts you most prefer. But it's human nature. We're an unthinking lot—sometimes. Let it happen that your chop or your steak is not to your liking, a little tough, perhaps, or a little something else that does not find favor with you—and then you surely think of the meat man, and your thoughts are anything but kindly. It was probably no fault of his, but that is neither here nor there; your chop is not what you like; it has destroyed the pleasure of your meal—and you would have a moment with the meat man. That's human nature, too.

A meat trade is no more built up haphazard than is any other trade, or any other business. It requires study and patience and a knowledge of the market, as in other lines, and success—real success—comes only to him who has met the conditions. But in all real success there have been pluses, and it is the pluses that usually make the success real, lasting. And one of the pluses is sacrifice in the interest of the customer. While enjoying your fresh, juicy chop, have you ever wondered whether the meat man didn't give up something that you might enjoy your chop, fresh and juicy? A meat trade is what the meat man makes it, and before very long, his customers can tell him, so far at least as its character is concerned. You can't fool the people in the meat trade; but if the meat man satisfies his customers—plus, and perhaps again plus, he may look for the reward, all else being equal, and his success will be acknowledged as just and logical.

When C. W. Ingledue, of the Glendale Market, 548 Broadway, made his bow to the meat business, he was fifteen years old, and his only object in adopting it then was that it gave him a job. He didn't really adopt it at the beginning; he merely took it as the best thing that offered at the time. But now that he was in it, he made up his mind to stick to it, and so he adopted it. His one idea then was to get on; but when he bought his first stock of meat and commenced business for himself, he made up his mind to do certain things—to give every customer a square deal, to have one price and stay by it, and to give the customer the best service in his power. He believes in concession, the better to ensure the satisfaction of those who give him their trade, that is, in making sacrifices in stock to preserve a uniformity in the quality of the goods. His trade extends over a large territory, and his equipment for doing business on a large scale is probably the most complete of its kind for many miles around.

Ingledue indulges no dreams in connection with his meat trade, although he has no doubt had 'em, earlier in the game. But he has arrived, and the day of dreams is past. Now it is time for stock-taking, and the process is not without its satisfactions.

NEW CARS FOR G. & M.

W. J. Bohon, manager of the Glendale & Montrose Railway, said this morning that his road was operating at an actual loss, but that the company was doing its utmost to give a satisfactory service and to meet the wishes of its patrons in every way, within reason.

The company is now arranging for a one-hour service, and to that end will co-operate with the Pacific Electric cars coming from Los Angeles, in order to give close connections for passengers who wish to travel on the Glendale & Montrose line. This at least is to be given a sufficient trial.

Three new steel cars are to be added, two of which are now on their way from the East. They are 32-passenger cars, modern in every way, and are expected to arrive here the latter part of September.

The company is also considering the question of substituting distillate for electricity.

ENTERTAIN SOUTHERN GUESTS

Rev. and Mrs. J. Addison Smith, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Murfreesboro, Tenn., who has been filling the pulpit at Immanuel Presbyterian Church, Los Angeles, for his son Rev. Herbert Booth Smith for the month of August, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Clendenin, 232 South Orange street. Mr. Smith was the pastor of Mr. and Mrs. Clendenin for twelve years in Baltimore, Maryland, and the renewal of old associations is very delightful to both parties. During their visit here Mr. and Mrs. Smith have been the recipients of a number of social attentions, one of which was a delightful little dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Clendenin last week in their honor. Friday the party enjoyed a motor trip to Riverside. Mr. Smith will occupy the pulpit of the First Presbyterian Church Sunday morning.

MR. DENNEY RETURNS

J. L. Denney, of Verdugo Road, returned Friday from a three months' visit with relatives and friends in eastern states and bright and early Saturday morning he was on the quiet club grounds greeting his numerous friends. Mr. Denney visited in Missouri and Illinois, but spent most of his time in Ohio, his boyhood home. He says throughout Ohio, Northern Illinois and other sections of the East the crops are excellent and give promise of great abundance. It was difficult for him to break away from his eastern friends as he was so royally entertained and such an abundance of the good things for which Ohio is famous constantly prepared for his delectation. But Glendale was calling and Mr. Denney could not resist the lure in spite of all the attractions in the East. Mr. Denney's sister, Mrs. Lou Craig, who visited him here and returned east with him, may return to Glendale in the course of a few months, after visiting friends in Pennsylvania.

CAMPING PARTY

Eleven people compose the jolly camping party, leaving Glendale in three machines on Saturday for Laguna Beach. The eleven are Mr. and Mrs. John T. Crampton and daughter Grace, 1011 Chestnut street, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bannock and daughter Iris, 1415 West Third street, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Howeth and son Virgil, 119 Orange street, and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. R. Hallett. They will spend the week-end at Laguna, returning Monday night.

Arnold, Mrs. Walter Stamps, Mrs. George Carter, Mrs. F. McG. Kelley, Mrs. A. D. Cross and Mrs. Claude Case.

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, September 1.—Pope Benedict will launch a formal "feeler" to further the ends of peace, according to confidential advisers received in diplomatic quarters this afternoon. His first effort will be made along the following line: The restoration of Belgium and the repayment of wrongs suffered; permission to have a German garrison remain at Antwerp.

AMMUNITION PROVES DEFECTIVE

SUPPLY FURNISHED PERSHING'S TROOPS FOUND TO HAVE DETERIORATED DUE TO INFERIOR POTASH

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, September 1.—One-third of the rifle ammunition supplied Gen. Pershing's expeditionary force proved faulty, it was learned officially to-day. When originally tested it was said to be all right, but deterioration set in due to inferior, domestic potassium chloride which the manufacturers had to use as the supply of German potash was exhausted.

POPE IS HOPEFUL OF PEACE

BELIEVES PRESIDENT WILSON'S TERMS, THE DEMOCRATIZATION OF GERMANY MAY BE MET

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

ROME, September 1.—The Pope is still hopeful that peace may come, perhaps soon, on President Wilson's terms—the democratization of Germany—it was officially learned to-day. The Pope is cheered by some features of the president's reply and believes that Wilson's persistent distinction between the German people and the Kaiser is changing the whole philosophy of the war.

WILSON REPLIES ON OWN INITIATIVE

PRESIDENT ANSWERS POPE BENEDICT'S PEACE NOTE WITHOUT CONSULTING THE ALLIES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, September 1.—That the Allies were not consulted before President Wilson drafted his reply to Pope Benedict's peace proposal was announced here officially this afternoon.

NEW NATIONAL ARMY A REALITY TODAY

THE TASK OF MOBILIZING FIRST FIVE PER CENT. OF 34,350 MEN DRAFTED IS NOW ON

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, September 1.—America's first National army is actually in the making to-day. Four thousand, five hundred and fifty-seven local exemption boards throughout the land plunged into the task of mobilizing the first shipment of 34,350 drafted soldiers to camp. This first increment will be 5 per cent. of the 687,000 men drafted. Between now and September 5 each local board will select, gather in groups at exemption board headquarters and finally certify the 5 per cent. On September 5 they will put a drafted man in charge of each group, entrain them and send them on their way to learn to battle the Boche. Routings and entrainments, according to the present plan, will be secret. All the local boards have in their order to have their quota of men at specified cantonment camps at a certain time. They are making their own plans for the hour and place of entrainment. Notices to the men selected by each local board to go first are being mailed or have been mailed to the men. Lists of drafted men in this first group are also being posted at exemption board headquarters. They are being ordered to report in person to the local board for "military duty" at a fixed hour named by the board, which shall be not more than 24 hours nor less than 12 hours before the hour for entrainment.

PLAYGROUND WORK

PACIFIC AVENUE HAS SUCCESSFUL SEASON WITH VOLUNTEER SUPERVISORS

This week closes the Pacific avenue playground work that has been carried on so successfully during the months of July and August. Those who have so willingly co-operated in this work are deserving of the public's hearty appreciation. They have surely done their bit in directing the activities of the children—our nation's greatest asset.

The following persons supervised one afternoon: Mrs. Stephen Packard, Mrs. Cecelia Thaxter, Mrs. Al Christensen, Mrs. Corwin Wilson, Miss Eula Richardson, Mrs. Frank Ayars, Mrs. G. D. Roach, Mrs. James Begg and Mr. R. D. White. Mrs. A. S. Chase gave two afternoons, Mrs. Roscoe Puffer and Mrs. Zella Robinson, three. Mrs. Geo. Herald, Mrs. Wm. D. Clark, and Mrs. Peter Penoché gave four. Mrs. Edna Pierce deserves special credit, having given seen afternoons. Mr. Hartmann was also a standby, serving nine afternoons.

Part of each Monday afternoon was given over to the children's nature class, with an average of twenty-eight in attendance. The children who did the notebook work are entitled to particular mention. They are Caroline and Robert Ayars, Velma Pierce, Margaret Wilson, Iva Pfeiffer, Doris Montgomery, Helen and Irene Robinson, Jack Hilbert, Harold Begg, Marjorie and Dorothy Sherman.

Norman Begg has started a fine collection of butterflies and has made for his use a beautifully polished, glass-covered case and a fine butterfly net. Dorothy Sherman made a special study of insects and sea creatures.

The prize for the best notebook work goes to Doris Montgomery.

The committee takes this opportunity of thanking all those who gave so generously of their time in this work.

MINNETTE SHERMAN,
Chairman of Playground Committee.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL OPENS SEPTEMBER 17

The grammar schools of Glendale will open September 17. It is expected that at least 1150 pupils will enroll, and that number may be exceeded. From 85 to 100 children will probably enroll in the kindergarten. In both grammar grades and kindergarten these are about last year's figures.

Beginning this term, twenty minutes will be given to physical culture in the schools in compliance with a recently enacted law of the legislature. At the High School two hours a week are devoted to physical culture.

It is understood that a kindergarten class will be opened at the Pacific avenue school, although that has not yet been fully decided upon.

TO RECUPERATE AT BEACH

Mrs. A. M. Beamon of 245 S. Maryland avenue who has been very ill for some time, and had intended going to a mountain resort, is in too weak a condition to undertake the journey and her physician has ordered her to the beach instead. Long Beach has been selected and she will be taken there at once. She will be gone for from two weeks to a month, depending upon the progress of her recovery.

TIRES INCREASE IN PRICE

Of interest to all auto owners is the decision of the leading tire manufacturer in the country to advance the price of tires 10 per cent., beginning September 1, and it is stated that this means that tires will now advance all along the line and take effect within a few days.

NO PAPER MONDAY

Monday, September 3, being one of the regularly established holidays for the Evening News, no paper will be published on that date. The Evening News holidays are Labor Day, Thanksgiving, Christmas, New Year, Decoration Day, Fourth of July.

HOUSE WARMING

MANY VISIT RED CROSS HEADQUARTERS AT OPENING ON THURSDAY

By Glendale Red Cross Pub. Com.
It certainly was a house-warming inspired by the true Red Cross spirit, a complex, concentrated motive of patriotism, charity and world-wide fraternity, the very antithesis of the war spirit whose ravages it strives to lessen as it may.

The Red Cross spirit was incarnated in Glendale only last April, about four months ago, but it has accomplished wonders. Beginning as a mere auxiliary, one of many, to the Los Angeles Chapter of the American Red Cross Society, the Glendale Red Cross soon realized the needless limitations of that relationship, and cut its maternal leading, strings to assert and achieve its independence and solidarity as the Glendale Chapter of the American Red Cross Society, one of the admittedly liveliest, most practical and efficient chapters in the West. So say the Pacific Coast organizers of that great American Red Cross Society, the right hand of President Wilson in humanitarian war work, the hope, salvation and comfort of millions whom the world war fiend has forced to "pass under the rod."

So it is a privilege, an honor, a glory to be identified with and work under the banner of the Glendale Chapter of the American Red Cross Society.

When the movement was started that April evening in the Glendale Union High School, the birthplace of so many good ideas, none of us, perhaps, realized what we were booked by Providence to accomplish.

Our success is due largely to the solidarity and harmony of our executive board, co-operating in all things with our revered and trusted chairman, John Hyde Braly, so ably assisted by our active, experienced, efficient vice-chairman, Rev. T. F. McCrea, whose recognized Red Cross service in China and elsewhere so thoroughly qualified him for his responsible position here, and enabled us the sooner to become an independent chapter, and achieve the standing we undoubtedly have among Pacific Coast Red Cross workers.

Of course the wise counsel and activities of chairman and vice-chairman would have availed little without the loyal, patient, intelligent, efficient, continuous co-operation of the other members of the executive board, chairmen of the regulation Red Cross committees so well organized to demonstrate the wisdom of such division of labor.

The Red Cross secretary, Mrs. Ocker, wishes to borrow a typewriting machine for her official correspondence. Can any person loan her one?

There is great need for more sewing machines. When so many in Glendale are little used, will not a few be loaned to the Glendale headquarters, who will send for and return them without cost to lenders. Miss Mabel Douglas was selling Red Cross Rosies successfully, as she makes ambulance pillows and does sundry other Red Cross work.

Mrs. Tuft, Chairman of Committee on Surgical Supplies, is getting her work organized; dates at headquarters not yet set.

Mrs. R. E. Chase, Chairman Membership Committee, and the secretary, Mrs. Ocker, will arrange times at the headquarters for taking memberships.

The Glendale Red Cross Chapter, through its purchasing committee, Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, purchases of Glendale merchants every bit of material possible that is suitable for the required uses. She says she always gives Glendale merchants the first call. She further mentioned the fact that she and other Red Cross workers fully appreciate the many kindnesses and courtesies of our generous Glendale merchants, who always respond to Red Cross calls.

Thursday afternoon the publicity committee, arranged with the Gleaner Studio and its owner, Mr. Alexander, took two interior pictures of the Red Cross headquarters while full of workers and visitors. Chairman Braly is in that picture, with Vice-Chairman McCrea, and the secretary, Mrs. Ocker. The young knitters make a fine group. The pictures will be for sale at headquarters for the benefit of the Red Cross.

ABSURDITY OF PROFANITY

Profanity is still a too-common habit among us. Frequently it is used thoughtlessly, without giving a moment's consideration to what it means, its effect upon others, or how it reflects upon those who include it in their speech. Perhaps the worst offenders are those who use the expletive because of the punch it is supposed to possess. But however it is used, whether without thought or because of some supposed and strangely defined virtue, it is at all times an offense in the best society, and should be discontinued. It should be discontinued not only because it is frowned upon, but chiefly because it is wrong in itself and accomplishes no good whatever.

There is a belief among a certain class that if a man can sprinkle his conversation with a few choice profanities it gives him a certain standing; but if this be true, it is not a standing that any really self-respecting man would ask for.

Again, if profanity is chosen for emphasis, it is only proof of a dearth in the man himself, for it is not in the language. The English tongue is furnished enough for all purposes, even for the strongest kind of a punch, and in place of using the expletive, it would be good advice to make a better acquaintance with English, and if the study did nothing more than pave a distaste for profanity, it would be time well spent.

There is again in quarters a notion that the man who confines himself to the queen's English, and who could not be induced to use a "swear word" is something of a sissy or a churchman. But never was a notion farther from the truth, so far as the sissy character is concerned, and one need not be a churchman to have a distaste for profanity.

There is a moral element in the expletive that is too little taken into account, and that puts the mark on the one addicted to using oaths. All that is needed, so far as this is concerned, is proper self-respect. If one would only take time to think about it, the swearing habit would lessen, for it does not march with self-respect. If you are given to the habit, do you ever swear in the society of ladies? No, and if you do, then society has another designation for you than that of gentleman. But the very fact that the habit is rarely indulged in in female company, should and must be sufficient for the gentleman, that it is improper at all times and in all associations.

STANDARDIZE MOTOR THEFT REPORTS

If all police departments and other authorities would standardize the reports filed of automobile thefts the number of stolen cars recovered would be increased fifty per cent. throughout America.

In other words, a national standardization movement along this line would save motorists more than $1,000,000 a year in "lost" cars which are stolen and never recovered. California motorists would be saved annually more than $200,000.

Having come to this realization, the directors of the Automobile Club of Southern California have authorized a coast-wide campaign to induce all police departments from Seattle to San Diego to adopt a standard form for automobile theft reports.

Leaving Los Angeles yesterday, a representative of the Automobile Club's Theft Bureau started on a coast tour which will include all of the principal cities where the standard form as used by the Automobile Club and adopted here by Chief of Police Butler, will be presented to each police commission, together with reasons for its general adoption.

Automobile Club officials have also asked Chief Butler to consider a plan for bringing the question nationally before all police commissions of the larger cities. The Chief is enthusiastic in his endorsement of the plan, and yesterday stated that the amount saved on the Pacific Coast by its adoption would reach tens of thousands of dollars.

Embodied in the standard form to be nationally adopted will be: make, type and year model of the car; color of body and gear; all manufacturers' numbers; make, type, size and serial number of tires, description of work done by owner on the car; dents and scratches on the car; extra equipment and manufacturers' number of same; contents of car when stolen and the company with which it was insured.

According to Detective John Powell of the theft bureau, who will represent the Automobile Club on the "educational tour," all such reports will be signed by the person reporting the theft. The reason for this is an important one.

Several instances have been found where cars have been "stolen" by their owners with intent to defraud the company carrying the insurance. If such a theft is reported by the purported owner over the telephone and he is then "caught up" on the act by subsequent evidence he can easily say that he was not the one who telephoned in the report. But when the report is officially signed and filed then there will be no escape for such offenders.

The Glendale Evening News should be delivered at your home by the carrier not later than 4:30 p. m. every day except Sunday, and usually much earlier than that time. Subscribers who have not received their paper at 4:30 o'clock, should notify the office by phone: Glendale 132, Home 2401.

FREE FRENCH CLASS FOR SELECTED MEN

The introductory class held Thursday evening at the Chamber of Commerce for the purpose of starting free instruction in French for enlisted and selected men, was attended by two young men, anxious to make themselves as efficient as possible. Mrs. Nanno Woods, who purposes devoting two evenings a week to this pleasurable duty, would be glad to welcome 30 or 40 French students, and the cordial invitation to our Liberty boys remains open to all who desire to take advantage of this opportunity.

The two young men who were present and several interested on-lookers formed an attentive and appreciative audience. Mrs. Woods demonstrated her teaching by means of chalk and blackboard, and before the lesson was over her pupils were able to express their personal wants in simple French. To be able to say, in French, I am cold, I am hungry, I want some water, I wish to shave, I want some tobacco, some bread, excuse me, thank you, and similar simple phrases will certainly help to smooth existence in la belle France. And this much was accomplished in the lesson given Thursday night. The next lesson will be held on Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. Woods, 1222 Milford street, Glendale. Sunset Glendale 394. All our gallant soldier boys, enlisted or selected men, are invited to be present.

This should be and is the grand central object of the United States in this war—to bring about a peace that will be lasting.

Insure Now!

You will be able, in future, to buy many things as low as you can now, or lower, but life insurance will inevitably cost you more each year.

A splendid illustration of this is shown in the net cost of matured endowments. Our Company has some figures on these which are most interesting, for instance, endowments maturing at age 65... On a basis of $10,000 for each policy:

Age 24, Insurance for 41 years and $10,000 cash—net cost, $5,718.45.
Age 27, Insurance for 38 years and $10,000 cash—net cost, 6,125.70.
Age 31, Insurance for 34 years and $10,000 cash—net cost, $6,622.75.
Age 35, Insurance for 30 years and $10,000 cash—net cost, $7,205.85.
Age 40, Insurance for 25 years and $10,000 cash—net cost, $7,958.36.
Age 45, Insurance for 20 years and $10,000 cash—net cost, $8,674.30.

Each man received the same amount of money, but the younger the more years of protection and the lower cost. What better argument is needed? In the language of the Bible, "now is the accepted time."

ROLAND DIMICK WRITES OF LIFE IN CAMP TO PARENTS IN RHYME

The enclosed letter was received by Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Dimick from their son, Roland E. Dimick, who enlisted in the First U. S. Cavalry, April 24, 1917. Roland is 18 years old.

Near the Mexican border, August twenty-eight.

Dear Mother: I am writing, I know, a trifle late,
But I have been so busy with the soldier's daily grind
That I've neglected writing, but I know you will not mind.

When you've read what I am writing
You'll feel a whole lot better,
And I promise that hereafter
I will write a daily letter.

Tell Sis she would not know me
Since I left our little town,
For the sun has surely baked me
A most gorgeous golden brown.

Tell Dad if he could see me
He would never scold me any more
For oversleeping mornings
Or neglecting any chore.

Tell ..... that I love her,
When you see her, Mother dear,
That sleeping, drilling, working,
I keep wishing she were here.

Tell Auntie that I thank her
For the little wooden box.
The home-made jam and cake,
And the dozen knitted socks.

The reason that I am writing
This letter, dear, to you,
Is so that each and every one
Will know just what we do.

At five a. m. the bugle blows
The call to rise and dress;
At five-fifteen the morning run,
At six a. m., the mess.

Hot cakes and syrup, coffee,
Spuds, mush and bacon fried,
With sugar, milk and home-baked bread
To fill the space inside.

At half past six, fatigue call sounds,
The streets and tents are pliced;
Then we drill for two long hours
Before we are released.

From 9 a. m. till 3 p. m.
We sleep, and write, and read,
Then drill again, mother dear,
For drilling is what we need.

The Post Exchange supplies our wants
With most anything.
We have a big brown tent and piano
Where we go to sing.

We can get a pass to go to town
'Most any time we wish;
We have everything we want to eat,
Both plain and fancy dish.

We have a ball team, some boxing gloves,
A wrestling match and craps;
We've each a little army cot
We sleep on after taps.

We have mess halls and mosquito nets,
And shower baths most divine;
Oh, there's nothing, mother, that we have
That isn't extra fine.

We have a hundred things, dear mother,
That I haven't time to mention;
A hundred things, dear mother,
That require our close attention.

We are happy and we are healthy
And we're learning to be men;
Such a chance to get a schooling
We may never have again.

Oh, I miss you, mother darling,
But I am happy and content,
With the hours and weeks we're spending
In a regulation tent.

'Cause I know I need the schooling
I may never get again,
The school that takes the weaklings
And turns them into men.

Now, mother dear, I've written you
A letter that is long;
'Efficiency' is the title
Of our regimental song.

So I will close with love and kisses,
And a heart that's full of joy,
And sign myself, as always,
"Your happy soldier boy."

THE GAS QUESTION

How quick the people are ready to rise up against what they consider is an injustice. Everything was moving along quietly as to the question of gas rates until about ten days ago a ruling of the State Railroad Commission showed signs of unfairness. Now the people are up in arms and there is no telling what the outcome may be.

Everybody is to take his own lunch and leave for the Park at eleven or before. This is for the children, the mothers and fathers and all New Thought people or any who lean that way. In line with that idea, the Lutheran church of Glendale at 11 o'clock will welcome an address by the pastor on "Boaz and the Reapers, or An Ideal Capitalist and Laborer." Would be glad to have a crowded house to hear this timely address from the standpoint of the Bible.

On account of the Chorus No. 2 in the Sunday Tabernacle taking the singers on whom we must depend for much of our services, for the Sunday night service, there will be no Christian Endeavor service at 6:30 nor preaching services at 7:30. All invited to the Sunday Tabernacle for the Sunday night service therefore.

IDEAS ARE WHAT COUNT

There is a vast difference between information and ideas, and the man of information may be useful like a dictionary, but may never be a force in the community.—C. R. and B. A. Bulletin.

THE "GREAT ADVENTURE" MEETING

The meeting Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Merrick to advance the campaign now on to free the land, was both well attended and enthusiastic. The music, speaking and discussion of those who feared and would resist Germany's world domination, said we already had Prussianism right in our midst holding in million-acre, in 15-million acre tracts the best lands and mines out of use. He mentioned even some German names, but what matters it whether these vast tracts were owned by Otto Schultz or John Jones? The result is to keep from the people so many thousands of potential jobs.

So our present system of keeping men out of their natural jobs on land, timber, mineral, agricultural, creates a perpetual struggle for merely the chance to work. Thus only when earthquakes, fire and floods, or a catastrophe like our present war, creates work repairing destruction and supplying armies is there enough work for all. And even then the high prices reduce the buying capacity of apparently good wages to only a bare living. He arraigned a civilization that needed a steady line of waste, death and destruction in order to keep people at work and above the hunger line. Only freeing the land would reverse the system and set all our clever inventions to working for the release of man from long hours of toil, thus affording time for development and happiness. That, this campaign now in progress proposes to do.

In the discussion the recent attempt in Redondo Beach to speculate in fishing space on the municipal-owned pier was mentioned as exactly similar to the speculation in farming space or digging space or building space on the world-owned land. The officers on discovering the game allowed none to hold space on that pier but actual fishers. Similarly the Great Adventure single tax movement would make it unprofitable for any one to hold land but actual users.—Contributed.

LUTHERAN PICNIC

The second annual Lutheran picnic of Los Angeles and entire vicinity will be held on next Monday (Labor Day) in Exposition park, southwest corner of Park, Vermont and 39th streets. Let each one take a lunch. Coffee, lemonade and ice cream will be served on the ground. A splendid program has been arranged. Rev. Dr. W. S. Dysinger, pastor of First Lutheran Church, Los Angeles, is the principal speaker. You can look for a splendid address. To enliven the day there will be games and races of all kinds for which various prizes will be given. On this Lutheran Day in Los Angeles let all styles and languages and nationalities come out to get acquainted with each other, for there are well on to 25,000 Lutherans in and near the city. Let us have a good time together.

W. C. T. U. ATTENTION

The unions of Glendale are cordially invited to a public and formal opening of the W. C. T. U. comfort bag shop, Monday, September 3, at 2 o'clock at the Temple, corner of Broadway and Temple street, Los Angeles. A patriotic program of music and demonstrations, readings and two addresses will be given. Mrs. Herbert A. Cable, chairman of the Woman's committee of the Council of National and State Defense, will speak on "Woman's Call to Patriotic Service." Robert C. Barton, secretary of the Moral Efficiency committee, will speak on "The Second Line of Defense." Following this there will be an inspection of the comfort bag shop in charge of the director, Mrs. Kara Smart Root of Glendale, corresponding secretary. Plan to come and bring a friend. Everybody welcome.

A REGULAR SPENDTHRIFT

For stealing a horse a man was arraigned before a judge who denounced him as a persistent law-breaker and then sentenced him to ten years at hard labor in the state prison.

"Have you anything to say?" the judge asked when he was through. "No," said the sentenced one, "except that it strikes me you are pretty durned liberal with other people's time!"

AND THAT WAS ALL, SIR

"Well," said the far West mayor to the English tourist, "I dunno how you manage these affairs over there, but out here, when some of our boys got tied up in that thar bankrupt telephone company I was tellin' yer about, they become mighty crusty!"

"Oh!"

"Yes; they didn't like the way the receiver was handlin' the business no-how."

"Indeed!" commented the earnest listener; "then, may I ask what they did?"

"Sartinly; I was goin' to tell yer. They just hung up the receiver."—Mystic Worker.

The Red Cross needs donations for the comfort bags: No. 5 needles, black and white thread, darning cotton, thimbles, small mirrors, collapsible drinking cup, pencils (indelible), tablets, envelopes, toilet soap. Any or all of these are acceptable. The classes are held from 10:30 to 4:30, Tuesdays and Thursdays, at the school house, to make supplies and garments. Come out and give a day, even if you are not a member.

Mr. Walter Andresen has been transferred to Bakersfield by the Edison Co., by whom he is employed.

Next Tuesday night will mark one of the biggest productions ever given in La Crescenta, the William Fox screen version of Charles Dickens' greatest dramatic masterpiece, "The Tale of Two Cities." This story is based upon and built around the French Revolution. Charles Darnay (the French Marquis St. Evermonde) and Sidney Carton, young, brilliant, but dissipated English barrister, are both in love with Lucy Manette, the beautiful daughter of Dr. Alexander Manette, a French doctor, who has been imprisoned in France for ten years and was a fugitive in England. Darnay, who is a French aristocrat, has renounced his title, Marquis St. Evermonde, and fled to England. He is saved from a French death by Sidney Carton, whom he resembles in a marked degree. Darnay wins Lucy while Carton stands afar off and worships at her shrine. The French Revolution starts and Darnay returns to France to save the life of an old and faithful servant. He himself is made prisoner and sentenced to death. Sidney Carton by dint of bribery and drugs has Darnay smuggled out of the prison while he remains in his stead. Carton pays the death penalty, is guillotined so that he could return to the woman he loved the man she loved. The doctor, Lucy, the drugged Darnay and the good old friend Mr. Lorry escape through the barriers and finally reach England, where after a time Lucy and Darnay are married. Wm. Farnum plays the dual role of Darnay and Carton, and great discrimination has been shown in keeping the screen version very close to the story. This is one of the greatest of Dickens' stories and for dramatic effect and well arranged and balanced detail, the finest of all his works. You can not afford to miss this one next Tuesday as it is one of the classics and a part of one's finer education to see these wonder stories of the early 19th century authors.

THE SCHOONER

The first vessel of the schooner type was launched at Gloucester, Mass., in 1713. The boat was in the water, and Captain Andrew Robinson was about to christen her with a name which has not been recorded when one of the bystanders cried out, "See how she scoons!" The captain at once took the cue and said, "Schooner let her be." That, declares the dictionary, was the origin of the word "schooner."—Christian Science Monitor.

JURY INTELLECTUALS

A newspaper in the western United States, reporting the proceedings of the trial of a defendant charged with an offense against the law, tells of his responding when asked if he knew any of the jurors drawn on the panel, that he knew several of them.

"Do you know more than half of them?" he was asked.

"I believe," said the prisoner, "that I know more than all of them."

But perhaps the veniremen were below the average of western jurors. A Wisconsin farmer, explaining the frequency of his being summoned for jury service, said he believed there was a reason. "Do you know," he said, "that I have never lost a case?"—Exchange.
